FOREWORD

In the soft sunshine of September in the year 1939, we, the class of '43 entered El Tee Hi as freshmen. During the years that followed, the horizon ominously darkened in warning of the storm to follow. Slowly but steadily the clouds enveloped the world with their dismal darkness. It is our hope, that in these years of strife, this book will recall days that were ours in peace and that when the storm subsides we may know again the happiness of the past.

With another school year fast falling behind, we see that to the Student Council is due the thanks for many of the enjoyable experiences we have had this year at El Tee. Under the able leadership of Bill Owen, president; Joanne Hayes, vice-president; Janet Nothelfer, secretary; Ed Anderson, treasurer; and with Miss Banks and Mr. Warkow, sponsors, this group, in a democratic method, has made school at least bearable, if not worth-while.

The most outstanding achievement of this group, even above their increased college and vocational guidance program, or the enlarged social program, is perhaps the Activity Ticket. This one contribution has had an effect greater than all the cornmeal ever seen on the gym floor. It has increased our school spirit and our student participation many times over and is a shining example of what this industrious group can do and has done!

Three cheers for one swell bunch for making this one swell year at El Tee.

Forensic Fiends

MOTTELSON CONVINCES CROWD

This year, Mr. Deabler's dashing demons again showed the umph and power of Ruth Ann and Ben Mottelson as affirmative with Paul Proesholdt as alternate, and Ken Scott, Allen Kovar, and Bill Wilson discussing the "con" virtues. Mr. Deabler led his class into the weighty subject: Resolved—That a federal world government should be established.

Another group consisting of Bob Frederick, Dorothy Heironymous, Winifred Brown, Constance Bauer, and Phillip Robbins made their start this year. As beginners, they obtained much valuable instruction in practice debates and Mr. Deabler's very frequent "bull sessions" until at the end of the season they were well-trained and ready to fill the gaps left by graduation.

Due to gas rationing and other war time restrictions, the gang had to cancel many of the meets previously scheduled. They did, however, join the Metropolitan League of Chicago. This is composed of fifteen other schools within reach of unrestricted transportation facilities. It meets in the Republic Building for all of its contests. As of March 24, El Tee's Squad is in a second place berth, close at the heels of the leader. This is not bad for a start and the team is expected to remain in the vicinity of first place if it does not capture the crown itself.

As to future prospects for the team, things look very bright. Although the brother and sister "Mottelson" combination will be broken, Ruth Ann will be the only one leaving the squad by graduation. The remaining regulars, bolstered by the frosh and soph reserves, should really go to town in next year's battles.

Tabulae Tales

Tabulae recipe: Start with two associates, rather green, and beat with an editor. Fold in twenty-three Staff members and one advisor. Mix with 1260 activity tickets, 350 padded covers, one business advisor and what do you get? (This problem has been that faced by three slightly bedraggled editors all year.)

Shortly after being elected this same trio reported to Miss Keizer for duty, their faces bright and shining in anticipation of the job to follow.

After choosing a staff of about twenty-one members to compile and write up various activities around school such as Music, Dramatics, Boys' and Girls' Sports, Clubs, and Faculty, plus two "picture drawers," they tackled the job of making a dummy.

Following this, long conferences were held with engravers, cover men, janitors, and other conferable people.

After mounting numerous photos, and editing various copy, including senior writeups, and some fun (which included kite flying and various touching up jobs, i.e. mustaches and the like on the pictures of 110) this book began to take shape.

Upon the Staff rested the greatest burden. Perhaps our hardest working member was our photographer, Bob Dockum, upon whom fell the burden of keeping Mr. Hinchcliffe's appointments straight plus producing scads of first rate candid shots. One glance will inform the reader on the excellent quality of the work done. The Faculty write-ups were done by poet laureates to be Mary Mae Schroeder, Ruth Rowland, and Jane Leber. The club compositions came from Bobbie Peterson, Dodo Voss, Bill Jefferson and J. R. Rowe (see pages 73-99). Musicals were covered by June Kehres and Bob Neubacher and the well known critics Millard and Pook discussed the virtues of El Tee's Barrymore's. Sports were handled by Dave Kelly, Bob Stiles and Bob Van Lone on the he-man side while Mitzi Schad, Ann Mottelson and Terry Ostengaard dashed off the feminine angle. Bill Pear's cartoons and Don Smith's drawings helped no end in this 128 page WHO'S WHO.

Editors Foudriat, Russell, and Burruss Hard at Work

Needless to say, without the cooperation of Miss Keizer, to keep the editors on the straight and narrow, and Mr. Davis, to see that the financial end went according to budget, this editor's dream of a masterpiece would be wholly impossible. It is to these two "gluttons for punishment" that the entire staff extends a vote of thanks.

Again returning to the three editors, we find them in somewhat of a deadened condition, answering an indefinite—"Huh?"—to all questions. These poor hard working souls now hope to be pensioned and allowed to spend the rest of their lives in some peaceful, unactive surroundings such as the LION office (208). (Footnote) The parts of the editors were played by Norm Burruss, Ruth Russell, and Don Foudriat.

Lion: A Krummy Klan

This year's Lion, under the able direction of John "Front Page" Krummell, as editor in chief, and Ted "By-Line" Krumweide as associate editor, had one of its most successful seasons. To these two editors fell the job of making things run straight.

Bill Dawson, as business manager, handled the circulation and exchanges. Doris Glasser, Janet Van Alstine, and Dot Hansen, in the positions of assistant editors, helped in a thousand little ways, which included sharpening the bosses' pencils, etc.

Alyce Bradley, Ralph Leavitt, and Augusta Collins, respectively, Clubs, Sports, and Features editors, assigned stories for these pages and took care of their make-up. The copy editors . . . Jean Hoffman,

Of course, any paper is not complete without reporters; therefore, to fill these positions, we take great pleasure in presenting: Robert Stiles, Walter Kansteiner, John Mansfield, Doris Kosik, Vivian Dugan, Carolyn Bagnall, Jane Little, John Orchard, Charlotte Peterson, John Stocker, and Theile Wilde.

Bill Pear gets credit for the cartoons found in various issues, and Miss Daugherty served as sponsor.

Particularly noticeable this year were the extra editions; namely, the War Edition. Other "super" issues included the Christmas Special and the Hobo Day Edition, not to mention the courtesy campaign carried on by this worthy publication.

Playmakers:

Junior and Senior Jesters and Shakespeares

Any Juniors or Seniors interested in any phase of dramatics find Playmakers, the drama club for upperclassmen, the answer to their quest.

This year, under the leadership of Norman Burruss, president; Virginia White, vice-president; Herb Cattell, treasurer; Edith Schmidt, secretary; and Mr. Kennedy as sponsor, effort has been made to acquaint all those interested with the various types of plays and their production. Opportunity was made for students interested in directing to gain experience in this field. Marian Artesian directed Albert Miller's play, "Maude's Diary," and Eleanor Reynolds produced Milton Gieger's "One Special for Doc."

During the year a very interesting meeting was held in which Mr. Cattell of the Western Springs Little Theater reviewed "Uncle Tom's Cabin."

Playmakers also finds a hugh responsibility in helping to find talent for the Junior and Senior class plays by giving these young actors the needed experience for this type of production. This is only a sample of the opportunities for practical experience to be gained by an active participation in Playmakers.

Heaven Can Wait

Barb and Johnny in One of the Highlights of the Play

Congratulations to the senior play cast and its director, Mr. Kennedy, for one of the finest play productions in the history of the school.

The play, "Heaven Can Wait," opened with a prologue which seemed very confusing until you realized that you were viewing Heaven. Joe Pendelton was ably portrayed by John Hurlbut. Undoubtedly this was some of the finest acting this school has seen in a long time. On Johnnie's shoulders laid the greatest part of the production, and he handled it like a trooper. He was picked up about sixty years too soon by an over-anxious messenger No. 7013, very comically played by Bill Jefferson. His part was enacted very successfully. Joe was a flying prize fighter whose soul was removed from his plane as the plane hurtled toward earth. Upon checking with Mr. Jordan, he found that it wasn't his day, so he was returned to his original body. The most disastrous part came when they found out that Joe's manager had cremated Joe's body, thinking him dead, so Joe was without a body. Mr. Jordan, professionally portrayed by Johnny Rowe, began the search to find a new body for Joe, who wanted one "in the pink," and wouldn't accept any that was below his original one. Finally Joe lodged his soul in Mr. Farnsworth's body, who had just been murdered by his wife and her accomplice. He did this in order to aid Betty Logan, beautifully played by Barbara Wilcox. Farnsworth was murdered again, so Joe had to find a new body. By this time he had fallen in love with Betty. Finally, he came upon a body that met his qualifications, so he stepped into the body of "Kayo" Murdock after the "Kayo" had been shot for not throwing the fight. He finished the fight and became champ in Murdock's body.

All through Joe's changes, his manager, Max Levene, has been extremely confused and it was not until Joe played his saxophone and shook hands in their secret way did Max know it really was Joe. Max was terrifically portrayed by

Bob Hilton, the screwball of the class, who turned in a grand bit of acting to furnish plenty of laughs for the evening.

Joe finally decided on keeping Murdock's body, so with a snap of the fingers of Mr. Jordan, Joe forgot all about his life as Joe Pendelton and became "Kayo" Murdock. Even Max Levene couldn't make him remember his past life as Joe. Upon leaving, Kayo met Betty, and they both seemed to know each other, but they didn't know why. This was the climax to a wonderful evening.

Mr. Jordan was probably the most difficult part to portray and honors go to J. R. Rowe for doing such a wonderful job on this difficult part.

A gigantic supporting cast aided this production. Orchids to all of them. Walt Kansteiner as the plainclothesman was good for plenty of laughs. The two brawny escorts were enacted by Ed Krolovec and Graham Gutsche. General aids about the Farnsworth home were played by Marion Artesian, Eleanor Reynolds, Jane Leber, and Jeanne LeMonnier. Owen Swietzer as a plainclothesman, Earl MacDonald as a workman, Keith Kline as Lefty, and Herb Catell as the doctor, all were excellent. The parts of Mrs. Farnsworth and Tony, the two villain lovers, were very dramatically and successfully portrayed by Guinevere Dye and Bob Neubacher. These two were exceptionally good. Such a play as this sets a standard for all the plays of the future and gives the following classes a goal at which to aim.

Growing Pains

"Growing Pains" by A. Lauverol was the choice of the junior class for their play on Friday, January 29. The scene was laid in the patio of a professor's home in a typical college town in northern California. Beginning with Professor McIntyre (Arthur Odegard) the cast included: Mrs. McIntyre (Joanne Warner) a kindly and practical mother; Terry McIntyre (Courtney Coolidge), the brat who is trying to become a refined young lady; George (Tom Beckley) the disgusted older brother; Brian (George Rakerd) the center of all the girls' affections and particularly of Terry's; Dutch (George Fricke), Hal (Arthur Stinkel), and Omar (John Lindsay) are all members of George's gang; Mrs. Patterson (Barbara Seibert) the domineering mother of Elsie Patterson (Alice Powers) who is not exactly the dream girl type; Jane (Mary Ingraham), Miriam (Shirley Hooper) and Patty (Betty Hitch) are all friends of Terry who had to get busy if they did not want Prudence Darling (Shirley Hill) to vamp their men.

The cast was ably rounded off with Sophie the maid (Eleanor MacWithey), the traffic cop (Bill Olsen) and Vivian (Jean Woodbury).

Again we praise the fine work of Mr. Kennedy as director, Mrs. Murphey as Technical Director and James Shude as Stage Manager. And to all the student help on this masterful production we heartily salute.

Soph Score Success

The sophomore class was not just satisfied with one play this year. It had two: "A World Without Men," by Phillip Johnson, and "The Monkey's Paw," by W. W. Jacobs. The swell results in both were due to the hard work of the casts and the stage crew and the excellent direction by Miss Stephens, the class sponsor. With Homer Maulberger (Mr. White), Jane Gammie (Mrs. White), Robert Lightfoot (Herbert White), Hillary Moore (Sergeant Mauor Moms), and Lee Glassmer (Mr. Sampson), the class did themselves proud in "The Monkey's Paw." The girls, however, did just as well in "A World Without Men." They were: Gwen Hawes (Mme. Paval), Joan Messner (Miss Whisper), Marie Hlavecek (Mrs. Smith), Beverly Brouer (Mrs. Robins), Carol Leavitt (Mrs. Jones), Jacquelin Warner (Mrs. Brown), Marilyn Winkoff (Mrs. Millett). The whole production was given the finishing touches by the busy stage crew.

PAINT AND POWDER

Under the sponsorship of Miss Sheppard and Mrs. Hodson, and under the leadership of Sally Custer, president; Barb Glassner, vice-president; Jacquiline Warner, secretary; Kathleen Uecker, sophomore treasurer; Virginia Link, frosh treasurer. These budding actors have accomplished much toward later stardom at El Tee. Their monthly meetings were often the occasions for one act plays such as "Rip Van Winkle," "Pop Reads the Xmas Carol," and others.

You don't have to have a "vacant stare and shaggy hair" to be artistic, nor do you have to sit in a cold garret crunching cheese and stuffing furniture into the stove to appreciate other artistic souls. The All Arts Club enjoys the practical side of art, and in doing so serves itself, the school and the country. With the help of the Home Council, A. A. K. arranged an art display, the proceeds of which went to buy a War Bond. Many a slim wrist goeth about adorned with a bracelet during A. A. K.'s Autumn Silver Period. Besides furthering appreciation of art and creating it by honest toil, the members liked to get together for mere pleasure. This attitude resulted in one grand party at Mrs. Murphey's home, and a Christmas party with games, food, and fun galore.

This year something new was noticed around El Tee, a marching and playing band. For something to talk about, the students noticed, not a ragged, ill-sounding sixty, but a well-drilled, well-disciplined, and precision square of blue and gold.

Under the able direction of Louis A. Hansen, the band was taught the tricks of difficult maneuvers.

Band

Also, under his exact and precise baton, the music was graduated one step higher on the road of perfection.

The band, this year, has done more in a shorter time than it has ever done before. Besides playing at all the home football and basketball games, it presented, with excellent quality, two concerts, marched on several extra dates, and played for several assemblies.

In the coming years, under Mr. Hansen's direction, El Tee will have one of the best bands ever to be known to this establishment of learning.

The orchestra of 1942-1943 will be remembered as one of the prominent musical organizations in the school. Under the capable direction of C. F. Dissinger, who, for so many years has produced fine orchestras, the group can say that they have had a very successful season. The first appearance of the orchestra was at the Junior Home Council Meeting early in the school year.

In the Christmas Concert the orchestra joined with the other musical organizations to produce a very delightful program.

The pit orchestra provided the musical accompaniment for H. M. S. Pinafore.

The orchestra also had a major part in the success of the annual Spring Concert early in May. It is easy to see that this has been a very busy organization and, thanks to its members, to the officers, and to the splendid direction of Mr. Dissinger, this year's orchestra takes its place beside L. T.'s successful orchestras of the past.

Choir and Boy's Glee Club

This year the glee clubs and the choir of El Tee Hi, under the direction of Mr. Dissinger, have had a very important role in the musical productions of the school.

The Girl's Glee Club, composed of about sixty girls, mostly freshmen, played an important role in many of our assemblies and concerts. Joan Millard and Donata Renneck filled the executive position for this organization.

The Boy's Glee Club, with Jesse Gilbert at the helm, served in both the Christmas and Spring Concerts.

You have, no doubt, envied the grace and skill of our baton twirlers. Where did they acquire this ability? Why, from Twirler's Club, of course.

Under the able tutilage of Virginia Page Nutt, the head twirling teacher of the Vandercook School of Music, the skill of the twirlers has grown by leaps and bounds. They now not only twirl batons, but guns, flags and ropes, as well.

Their chief objective is to entertain us between the halves of football and basketball games, a service they have performed very admirably. They have also helped put on several enjoyable assemblies.

Special mention should be given to the three girls who for four years have been El Tee's leading twirlers and who organized the Twirler's Corps and put twirling "on the map" here. Silvia Bart, Ruth Hagen and Florence Pinner—El Tee salutes you.

This year's officers were: Florence Pinner, president; Silvia Bart, vice-president; Fay Verrill, treasurer; Mae Dearing, secretary. The sponsor is Mr. Hansen.

On March 26, the L. T. H. S. chorus, glee clubs, and orchestra combined forces to give to the school a top-rate operetta of Gilbert and Sullivan, entitled "H. M. S. Pinafore." The interest and appreciation shown by the audience indicated the high calibre of the production. Orchids go to Mr. Dissinger for so ably rounding out this jolly musical. Special credit should be given to Gwen Hawes, Owen Pollock, Chuck Reynolds, Lucille Smith, Carl Wright, Beverly Brower, Homer Maulberger for their fine individual performances. Johnathan Hayes and Bob Lightfoot also did a splendid job as the boatswain and boatswain's mate.

Mu Tau: Music Makers

In Mu Tau all the students who have an interest in real music find an enjoyable place to sing, to play, or just to listen. Anyone who can fill just one of these requirements is eligible to membership.

With the officers: Charles Adams, president; Jerry Bestler, vice-president; Florence Witt, secretary; Marie Hlavacek, treasurer, and the "Board of Advisors," Miss McCusker, sponsor, and Mr. Hansen and Mr. Dissinger, co-sponsors, the club has tried a new type of program this year. A series of talks on the Different Types of Music have been given by: Mr. Hansen, on the difference between classical and swing; Mr. Dissinger, on the classical school; Mr. Einear Anderson, on the romantic school; Mr. Hansen, on the modern school, and Mr. Kennedy on the music in the theatre.

In the fall Mu Tau, along with the Illinois Opera League Guild, gave the Opera Tea. The returns of this are used to buy a box at the opera. By this method, the members can see the best of operas at a very reasonable rate. If any person sells ten of the tickets for the Opera Tea, they receive a free ticket in return. Thus this club affords a grand opportunity for those interested in real music.

It is a gay and friendly group of students who enjoy practicing the customs of Spanish-speaking countries while learning the language. Programs of speakers, games, and songs; a Christmas party, in true Spanish style; and a well-acted humorous skit for International Day, provided good times for the members this year.

It's twins! Here's a club that leads a double life—German I Club for first year German studes, and German II Club for advanced classes. Although it's a house divided, it doesn't do things by halves because German II is really the leader.

The programs this year have been varied and interesting, with speakers, German folk songs, German jazz records, and a superb Christmas party. An excellent two-act play was given for International Day.

Dusting Off the Old Ones

Parisian Parlez-Vous

A flash of light, a cloud of dust, and a rush of students down the corridor herald a meeting of French Club. A policy of participation has made it one of El Tee's most popular, for everybody serves at least once on both the program and refreshment committee. Meetings are entirely in French, and further the study of the language through games, songs, plays, and unique presentations such as a "Kay Kyser" program in French. A Christmas party and the annual club banquet are other outstanding meetings of the year. Folk dances were given for International Day.

Aeneade Club

"When in Rome do as the Romans do," likewise when in Virgil class. Becoming familiar with the lives and culture of the ancients gives greater appreciation of the study of Latin to these students, who once a month enjoy games and songs in Latin. The highlight of the year took place on Virgil's 2012th birthday. An ancient Roman recipe was used to make a birthday cake of the type used some 2000 years ago—it looked like art gum, but had a nice, cheesy flavor, and was thoroughly enjoyed by all and sundry. It is to be regretted that Virgil was not able to join the fun.

No dues! A club after your own heart, but you have to take Cicero to be eligible. This is Aeneadae's little brother, and follows the same general plan as the Aeneadae as to purpose, programs and organization. It concentrates, however, on the life and times of Cicero rather than those of Virgil, but has just as much fun as the older club playing Greek and Roman games, studying their cultures, and singing their songs.

Hoards of Hicks

With woeful willies, campus cuties, bedraggled bums, hilarious hoboes, and many other such corny concoctions, our hobo day swung into its usual stride of merriment and good time for every facetious faculty member and stewed stude of ole El Tee. Starting out with every room having a half hour of program and electing the best dressed bum, we followed through with the parade of these studes promenading around the gym. The faculty and student judges picked the prize winners. J. R. Rowe and Dr. "Cure-all" Warkow presided over the amateur hour. The eventful day was brought to an end after the Hobo Hop held in the girls' gym, just in time to catch the Omaha freight.

O.E.O: Babes With Brains

Omega Epsilon Omega, the chosen few. That's right because the only people who can belong to this club are girls. But that isn't all—each girl has to make the honor roll at least twice a semester in order to become a member. These are stiff regulations but, strange as it may seem, the club has a very large membership.

The officers were Gloria Drost, president; Janet Nothhelfer, vice-president; Ruth Ostrom, secretary, and Mitzi Schad, treasurer.

At the beginning of the year, Miss Campbell, a new teacher at El Tee, informed the girls about Mexican customs, history and sights.

O. E. O. holds a candlelight service annually for the new members, an experience the girls never forget.

There is a fund set aside which is used for a scholarship to Junior College. This is given to the most brilliant senior. This tradition of O. E. O. was not broken this year.

Girls' Club

Here is a club of which every girl is a member. It is one of the few clubs which requires no dues. The officers, who are Wanda Ronneberg, president; Sally Custer, treasurer; Ruth Russell, vice-president, and MaryBeth Killey, program chairman, have done a superb job of keeping such a wonderful organization going. Janet Millard also should receive special recognition for hours spent working out profitable Girls' Club programs. Perhaps the most interesting of these programs were the Good Grooming Series. For these they chose different speakers—some who told them about correct grooming of the hair, others who gave them helpful suggestions as to care of the skin, and others who gave ideas about posture and grooming of the clothes. These proved to be very useful to the girls. This year Girls' Club is a mere baby. One short year ago Lois Easton, after many defeats and a few major triumphs, really started Girl's Club permanently. It can still be remembered how difficult it was to carry on meetings without reserve funds. They were outstanding meetings with attendance running into the hundreds. What put them over was good publicity, and a helping hand from the Student Council treasury in tight spots. Now Girls' Club claims the Big and Little Sister party and Bow Day in their list of activities. Perhaps the chief purpose of the club is to unite all the girls in the school. Its aims are to serve and be an outlet for the interests of all its members.

Students who are, or have been, enrolled in a Home Economics class are given the opportunity to become members of this club. With Miss Reid and Miss Stokes as sponsors, and Charlotte Peterson as president, Beverly Ray as vice-president, Lola Korkas as secretary, and Ruth Reinke as treasurer, the Home Economics Club has had a varied and interesting program this year.

At the beginning of the school year the club had a wiener roast, which was enjoyed by all. As usual, this year the officers were installed in a candlelight service. For charity, the Home Economics Club gave a Christmas Party for some poor children. This is an old tradition of the organization. Their Sweetheart Tea, to which the mothers were invited, turned out to be a large success.
This fulfilled its purpose of creating an interest in Home Economics.

Ti-Kem: Seeking Scientists

On the first Tuesday of any month, in Room 211, you can find an interested group of future scientists watching informative experiments or movies, or listening to an outside speaker. These students are anything but the crackpot scientists they are accused of being. They are merely students interested in learning more chemistry and physics than is offered in the classrooms. Membership in the club is open to anyone who has a genuine interest in the physical sciences. This year the first semester meetings were devoted to chemistry, the second semester ones to physics. Probably the most interesting meeting of the year was the demonstrations of the properties of liquid air. Also, despite the transportation difficulties, one field trip was taken to the Museum of Science and Industry.

The policies of the club this year were guided by John Krummell, president; Dick Williams, vice-president; Dick Smith, secretary; Dave Steward, treasurer; and Mr. Carpenter, assisted by other members of the Science Dept., sponsor.

Math Club

Have you ever wondered how to calculate "pi" to 728 places, or why we count by tens instead of twelves, or what Einstein's Theory of Relativity is? The Math Club members did, and they set out to learn the answers to these and many other questions not usually answered in the classroom. Interest was maintained by alternating the reports of members on their own research topics with movies and outside speakers.

The club was ably run by its president, Bill Jefferson; assisted by Homer Maulberger, vice-president; and Janet Millard, secretary-treasurer. The fact that Mr. McNabb, with his almost limitless fund of ideas for interesting programs, was the club's sponsor accounts in no small degree for its success.

Mottelson Shows 'Em How

Beetles and Butterflies

This is the forest's prime evil: it is too far from the school to suit the members of the Biology Club. The wooded banks of the mighty Salt Creek abound in fascinating wild life under rocks and in hollow logs; so that Biology Club members, who frequent such places, spend their meetings picnicking in the woods whenever circumstances permit—turning rocks, turning ankles, and turning many a hot dog over the glowing embers of the evening camp fire.

During the winter their meetings are devoted to everything biological from dinosaurs to fishing trips, studied by means of movies, colored slides, lectures, and a trip to the Field Museum. In co-operation with the school war effort, one meeting was devoted to making scrap books on the subject of biological sciences for the Red Cross.

Kickers' Klique Klub

Have you noticed all the little men with cameras and flashguns running around school this year? They were probably inspired by the Camera Club, more properly known as the Klickers' Klique Klub, to take more candid shots around the school for this book. Any boy or girl interested in photography is invited to join and attend the interesting meetings. Many phases of photography were covered at the meetings this year by talks either by fellow members or by outside speakers, movies, and demonstrations. The outstanding meetings were the ones at which the members brought their cameras and tested their skill in portraiture of some of the more photogenic co-eds of El Tee. Several field trips were also taken.

The grand climax of the year's activities was reached in May when the 4th Annual Spring Salon was held.

This year's officers were: Bill Jefferson, president; Bob Dockum, Bob Drew, vice-presidents; John Holt, treasurer; and Joe Froh, secretary. The able sponsor was Mr. Davis.

Willing War Workers

Prick up your ears! Hear that sound of eager discussion, vigorous cudgeling of brains, whirring of wheels? Gather your robes around you and let your little feet patter down the hall toward Room 19; there you will behold the El Tee War Commission, nerve center of countless patriotic activities.

A child of the Student Council, War Commission, like Topsy, has "just growed" till its effects extend to every nook and cranny of old El Tee. Anywhere, sauntering through the halls or raising weary eyes from volumes of forgotten lore in a classroom, a stude cannot fail to notice some evidence of war activity.

Perhaps his gaze falls on a carefully V or Jeep on the blackboard. Naturally, his heart leaps up, for these signs show that his class has a 100% participation in Tuesday's war stamp sales. The Jeep is a token that the class, among the highest of 100% rooms in purchases, has earned the honor of naming said vehicle—bought by the school's bond and stamp sales.

He may view announcements for Red Cross, a Civilian Defense meeting, Victory Book drive, "March of Dimes" campaign, or a call to rally forth to a Victory Ball. The stude witnesses only a part of El Tee's tremendous mobilization for war effort.

Nearly every phase of student life has been altered by the international conflict. Courses have been changed to give a better foundation for active service; new courses—Home Nursing, First Aid, Aero Physics, and after school math refresher courses have been added. Physical, as well as mental fitness has been emphasized by new equipment and a broader and more strenuous gym program. Out of school, war activities are fostered, such as Military Club, the Victory Garden and farm employment program, and the Service Center Canteen booth. Patriotic assemblies, air raid drills, panel discussion, art and essay contests, and special War Activities edition of the Lion have all done their part to keep every corpuscle of our patriotic blood astir.

Behind the scenes, co-ordination, promoting, aiding and abetting every activity with the purpose of helping to win the war, we find the War Commission—Miss Banks, Mr. Warkow, Mr. Deabler, Miss Aucutt, and Miss Jordan; Dave Kelly, president; Terry Ostengaard, vice-president; Janet Nothelfer, secretary; Edith Schmidt, Herb Cattell, Dick Breuss, Dorthea Voss, Ralph Mitchell, Guinevere Dye, Ted Krumweide, Harry Knowlton, and Dunc Fisher are the busy little bees who keep things humming.

Special orchids go to Mr. Deabler's War Stamp crew of 10, whose diligent efforts have thoroughly organized the school for War Bonds and stamp collection. With the aid of eleven helpful women from the Home Council, they managed the tabulation; collections and distributions are handled by room captains and their committees in the first period classes every week. Exceeding fondest hopes, El Tee studes have maintained a weekly average of $2500 in bond and stamp purchases. For every $900 collected, a Jeep was christened by the highest 100% classes during the famous "name a Jeep campaign."

Also on the receiving end of the laurels we find Miss Aucutt and her industrious Red Cross workers, as well as the various committees and the student body who have put over many a patriotic campaign with a resounding bang. There is reason to be proud of the admirable and enthusiastic response of our school to greater efforts during this critical time in our nation's history.

MILITARY CLUB

Military Club was organized last year by Major L. P. Warner in order to give boys of the high school and Junior College a basic military training. The purpose of this is to prepare the boys for the army so that they won't go in without any training at all. In this way they have a better chance for officer's training.

Their meetings consist of one hour of lecture and one hour of military drill in the boys' gymnasium. The lecture hour may be taken up with a film on military drill, etc., or with a lecture on military statistics, which must be known.

The two captains of the organization are Ted Lookholder, of J. C., and Walter Kansteiner, from the high school.

Since it was necessary for Major Warner to leave in the middle of the year, Ollie Stenger took his place as sponsor of the club.

Now, Boys, Remember Your Manners

This worthy organization is sponsored by the Y. M. C. A. One of its kind can be found in almost every high school from Main to California.

Their officers for this year were Cal Ford as president, Dave Kelly and Don Robinson as vice-presidents, George Huisken as secretary, Dick Williams as treasurer, and Don Anderson as chaplain. These boys, with the co-operation of Mr. Don Williamson, have done a very fine job in managing the club's affairs this year. Although famous for Pot Luck Suppers, Hi-Y put over some swell swimming and bowling parties for their members. They also enjoyed talks on different things of current importance, such as plastics, etc.

Girl Reserves

This is a sister organization to Hi-Y. It is the youth group of the Y. W. C. A. and is found all over the United States. Its purpose being service, has been fulfilled under the able leadership of Claire Leupold who acted as president. The other officers were Marion Smith, vice-president; Helen Wagner, secretary first semester; Betty Fredericks, secretary second semester, and Beatrice Dittman, treasurer.

Their most popular event was the Style Show where the girls showed the latest frocks. One meeting was devoted entirely to Red Cross. Not only have they done this in connection with war work but they have helped the U. S. O. on many occasions. Another great success was their Tea. One night the girls turned Italian by filling themselves with spaghetti at their dinner. They have had several discussions, quizzes and lectures, all of which interested the members of the club immensely.

MAGIC CLUB— FUTURE HOUDINIS

A new club this year, these masters of the sleight-of-hand got off to a flying start. This club is probably one of the most unusual in the school; it even names its officers differently. Instead of having a president, vice-president, etc., they have a Swami, a Genii, A Sphinx, and a Yogi. This year these offices were ably filled by Homer Maulberger, Ken Scott, Allen Kovar, and Malcolm Herbert, respectively. At their meetings these future Houdinis demonstrate their tricks.

Small But Powerful

STAMP CLUB—PHILATELISTS PERFORM

In the second year of its existence, the Stamp Club has developed into a flourishing organization. At its meetings you will see a large group of these philatelists earnestly discussing their hobby. Over in a corner you are likely to find a couple of members trading choice specimens. The meetings are usually very informal, but an occasional formal talk on some phase of stamp collecting adds interest and variety.

One of the highlights of the year was a stamp auction, the proceeds of which went into war stamps.

This year's able leaders were Ken Scott, president; Bob Hill, secretary, and Mr. Chambers, sponsor.

Entertainment Bureau

The Entertainment Bureau is an organization new to our school this year. It is the result of a realized necessity which was recognized by the "Inmates of Cell 117," formally known as Mr. Kennedy's third period public speaking class.

With Terry Ostengaard acting as chairman, this brain child functions only for the purpose of supplying entertainment to outside organizations which originates in the talent of the students. Upon request for some type of program, this group arranges the program and presents it. As an example of their work, the first outside appeal was the Young Men's Business Club, at which was presented an entertaining program of mixed talent. Of more immediate interest to us as studes was the assembly presented by this group. You remember, the tap dance, good music by a good orchestra, fifteen minutes' overtime, etc.

These are the entire activities of this group so far this year.

Hurry Harriers!

The La Grange Cross Country team, sparked by their captain, iron man Rich Breuss, ran their way to a third place in the conference meet. Under the guidance of Coach Bob Sedgewick, these distance men pounded the pavements religiously, training until then ran that 2¼ miles in record time. These runners develop strength, endurance, wind, stride, and a sense of timing, which, all going together, help each boy cover that stretch in less time than a boy from another school. Cross country is probably the least publicized sport there is, although it requires more strength, skill and endurance than most other sports. Many citizens of La Grange have been astonished at seeing a number of young men, clad in what appeared to be their underwear, galloping down the middle of the street, yet these same people would gladly sit and cheer at a football, basketball, or some similar game. Our this year's cross country team has done a great deal to bring out the skill and talent of many future track stars. In the spring, when Coach Bennett rounds up his track team, he'll have all these cross country men who are already trained and experienced. This year's letter winners are Breuss, Obdrick, Lahey, Richardson, Hartman, Brough, Moody, Morgan, Green, Llewellyn, Stunkle, Dunning, Crawford, and Blanchard.

Hoppe Snares One in the End Zone While the Band Stares On

The roaring Lions of La Grange have done it again! And it seems to everyone at El Tee that they have done it up really brown this time with an undefeated and unscored-upon record of six consecutive West Suburban Conference wins.

The indefatigable Lions, under the able tutelage of Coach Bennett, began the new season with high spirits and a conspicuous lack of returning lettermen. The indomitable Bennett-men had their spirits slightly dampened when the Proviso eleven handed them an 11-0 defeat in a pre-season night game, but soon rectified the situation by outmudding the Elmhurst Dukes, 13-0, in the conference curtain-raiser.

A week later, the inspired Lions handed the Bards a defeat to the tune of a 20-0 shutout. By this time the team realized that they had yet to be scored upon in conference competition, and they demonstrated to everyone that they intended to keep the record clean when they blanked Hinsdale 12-0.

October 24 was the memorable day on which the Lions had not only to maintain their unscored-upon record, but also to overcome a three-year homecoming jinx. The records show that they came through ably by steamrollering the Downers Grove eleven with an ample score of 46-0.

At this point the Bennettmen approached the acid test. The undefeated Riverside Bulldogs were their next conference opponents. The Riverside and La Grange teams came on Emmond Field on that sunny Saturday of October 30 full of hope and determination to win and thereby gain the lead in W. S. C. competition.

The outcome of this thriller caused the El Tee fans to run deliriously rampant with joy at the result of their unbelievable and tumultuous 34-0 victory over the highly touted Riverside eleven, and the season's record of six wins, no losses, no ties, and no points scored by the opposing teams!

Incidental to this overwhelmingly successful season, there were several interesting sidelights. Enumerated, they are as follows: 1. Guard Joe Saban, member of the well-known family of footballers, won the coveted position of guard on the all-state high school football team, which he richly deserves, and which also offers him a bright and promising future in the realm of football. 2. Coach Charles Bennett, who will probably be in the U. S. Navy before long, mentored his second championship team of his coaching career at El Tee Hi. 3. This year's championship brings the conference crown home to the halls of old El Tee for the second consecutive year, which seems to be an honor in itself.

In conclusion, aside from the honor awarded Joe Saban, the heavyweights were a highly co-operative eleven-man machine who, under the very capable leadership of "Chuck" Bennett, seemed to be destined to come through the holocaust of tough conference competition unscathed.

The record these fellows held is the highest standing ever attained by any school in our conference.
We're mighty proud of our boys!

Luke's Lights

Coach Ashby's valiant, scrapping Ponies managed to gain undisputed possession of the lightweight conference cellar with a record of one win, four losses and one tie.

It seems that a football team must have a certain intangible "something" in order to play winning ball, which the lights did not possess this season. The cubs had practically everything else in their favor—an excellent coach, many returning lettermen, plenty of good recruits and reserves and an indomitable will to win, but not very many breaks seemed to come the Ponies' way.

The Ashbymen made a promising start against Moosehart in a practice tilt with a score of 6-all, but soon received a 19-0 trouncing at the hands of York Lights under rather muddy conditions.

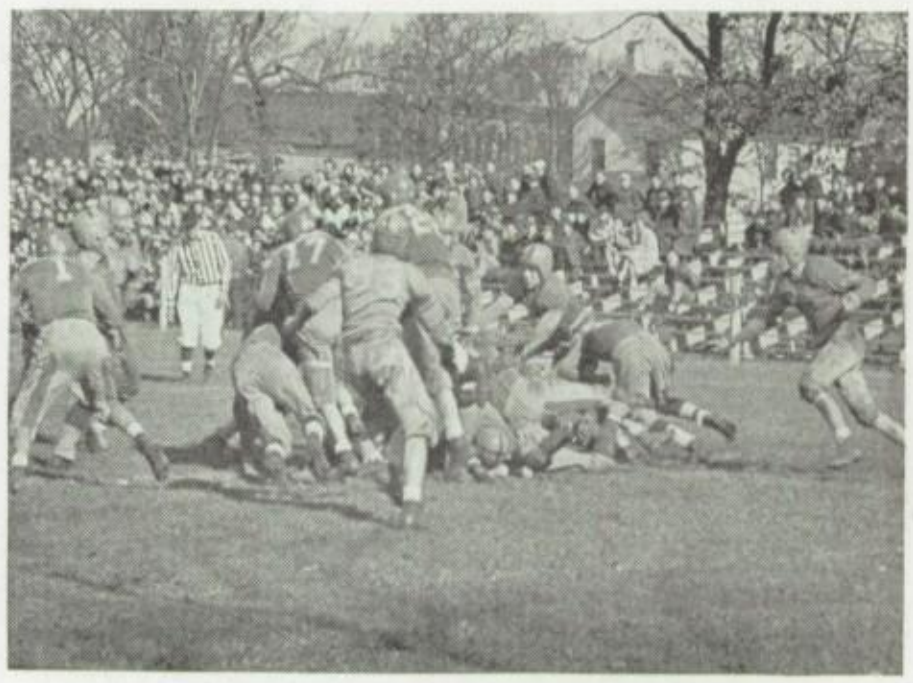
The Cubs showed more promise in their next engagement with Glenbard when they made a serious scoring threat on a series of gains via the Abrahams to Skidmore aerial route but, due to that final lack of punch, the Ponies lost the ball on downs on the two-yard line. However, they turned failure into partial success when they caught a Bardlet behind his own goal line for their lone two points. The final score, Glenbard, 7; L. T. H. S., 2.



That Poor Guy on the Bottom

Following this there came the low point in the season for the lightweights when they suffered two successive defeats, 6-0 and 13-0, at the hands of Hinsdale and Downers Grove, respectively.

On the very same day that the heavies were clinching the championship, the lights made the day perfect with a spectacular upset of a powerful Riverside eleven to the gratifying tune of 7-0. This game helped prove that the Cubs really had the "stuff" and it also proved that if the Ponies had awakened that dormant "stuff" earlier in the season, they would have made a much better showing in the win column.

At Maine the lights lost their early lead and the game ended in a 6-6 deadlock.

Myers' Men

As the season opened, Coach Myers was faced with a terrific shortage of material. To get down to facts and figures, there were exactly 14 out the first night. When the smoke cleared away after a busy season, we see that the team really did themselves proud as they showed plenty of fight and spunk in all their games. The season opener proved a heart breaker as they were beaten by a heavy Proviso team, 12-6. Trimming both Hinsdale and Riverside, along with giving Highland Park the hardest fought game of the year, showed the ability of the local spunksters.

These Frosh-Soph maulers are the boys who will compose the Varsity of the next few years. This squad is the feeder to the "Big Boys" and teaches them the fundamentals of the game and offers them very valuable experience.

Luke Ashby, a new addition to our athletic department, was given the assignment of coaching the heavyweight basketball squad for the 1942-1943 season. He formerly coached at Vandalia High School, where he enjoyed considerable success. When the season was about two-thirds over, he was called to active service by the U. S. Navy. Jack Boge, who coaches the Junior College basketball team, then took over the coaching job for the remainder of the season.

Nordin, Browne, and Mason provided most of the scoring punch and vied with each other for the high scoring honors throughout the season. Anderson and Sandusky played brilliantly at the guard positions and Hoppe's scrappy play was a big asset to the team. Others who saw action were Edwards, Fisher, Owen, Poulter, Uecker and Van Lone.

In the season opener at Proviso, which was a non-conference game, the Lions were on the short end of a 25 to 21 score in a hard fought game.

The next week-end the Lions journeyed to Hinsdale for the conference opener and lost to the Red Devils in a heart-breaking game by a score of 20 to 19. The lead see-sawed throughout the game and the final outcome was due to La Grange's inability to sink free throws.

Glenbard was next on the schedule and fell before a fighting Lion team, 40 to 32. Mason led in the scoring with eight field goals for 16 points. This first home game was attended by a large and enthusiastic crowd which set the pattern for attendance throughout the season.

In the next game a tall Downers Grove team invaded the Lions' lair and ran off with a 42 to 21 victory. The Downers' superior height was a big factor and enabled them to outjump and outscore our boys. Mason was high point man with 10 counters.

The next game was played in the small Riverside gymnasium. The Lions were slow in starting, and trailed 8 to 2 at the end of the first quarter. They evened the score at the half and then went on to win, 37 to 24. Mason again was head man with 13 points, followed by Brown with 9.

A fast York team came to La Grange but succumbed to the fighting Lions, 25 to 23. York led throughout the game and was only nosed out in the final minutes. Anderson's great defensive play and Hoppe's capturing of rebounds were the features of the game.

The next game was played at Maine where the Lions, victims of overconfidence, lost, 42 to 37. With the loss of this game went any hope of a championship season. Nordin scored 6 baskets for 12 points and Brown totaled 10 more with 4 field goals and 2 free throws.

The second round started with Hinsdale in our gym. The Red Devils led during the entire contest. In the closing minute of play the Lions almost tied the score, but lost, 33 to 31. This was the second close game with the prospective conference champs as they won the first game by 1 point. Brown started a two game high scoring spree with 15 points.

Glenbard was our next opponent and they won a tight game, 39 to 35. Brown continued his scoring streak with 8 baskets and 2 free throws for a total of 18 points.

Our next game was with Downers there, where we gained sweet revenge for an earlier defeat by whipping them, 45 to 31. The boys were really hot and scored almost at will. Nordin led the scoring parade with 17 points.

La Grange then played host to a fast breaking Riverside team and suffered their fourth setback in five games, 32 to 29. The Lions kept pace with the fast stepping Bulldogs until the final minute, when Holzwart sank two quick baskets for R-B. Mason led our team in scoring with 12 points.

Next, La Grange journeyed to Elmhurst to play a York team who played up to their usual high standard. York took command of the game from the start and led the Lions throughout the contest. The star of the game was fast little Donnie Landgren, who scored 16 points for York.

The last game of the conference ended as the fifth conference victory for the scrappy El Tee five, landing them in a tie with Riverside for fourth place. The game with Maine was slow, with the first quarter ending 9 to 5, with El Tee out ahead. Paynich, Maine's lanky center, took scoring honors with 20 points, followed by Mason and Nordin with 13 and 12, respectively. Our reserves showed their ability by swiping their own tournament, held for Hinsdale, Downers Grove, Riverside and El Tee. The regional tournament proved too tough for our boys as we were beaten out by Oak Park in the first round. This game showed up the outstanding ability of our team concerning passing and co-operation. Our shots just wouldn't connect, so we lost.

Pony Express

In his first year as coach of the Pony Express, Coach Paul Bailey was faced with an acute manpower shortage, at least a shortage of experienced players. With only one returning letterman and three who had seen spots of action the previous year, he had the tremendous job of building a formidable outfit. Although they won but one game, the Cubs showed remarkable pep and were in there scrapping all the time.

Opening the season with Hinsdale, a more alert and smoother working squad, the Cubs ran themselves into a 33-14 defeat, while Ozenberger, Hinsdale's ace, rang up 23 points.
Discouraged but not broken, the Ponies fought tooth and nail but lost to Glenbard by a two-point margin, 16-14. Simon was high man with 8 points to his credit.

In the third game, the Barons of York invaded the Ponies' realm and, although outplaying and outfighting the foe, York's coolness and control under the basket was too much and the Ponies were again defeated. Score: 31-24.

The next three games were lost to Downers, R-B and Maine. Though the Cubs experimented with new plays and combinations, they could not find the winning set.
As the second half opened, Hinsdale again whipped the home team with their superior height and playing ability.

Although the not very proud possessors of a won 0 lost 8 record, the Cubs continued the fight, undaunted in spirit. Though losing to Glenbard and York and receiving the worst drubbing of the season at the hands of Downers Grove, a 28-4 defeat, the Cubs loosed their wrath on R-B and eked out a decision against the astonished Bullpups. Good ball handling and team play accounted in no small part for this first victory. Although El Tee fans had a few doubtful moments toward the end of the game, the Cubs' stalling put the contest on ice.

The last game of the season was the same old story, Maine beating the Ponies the second time.

Although winning but one game this year, hope may be shown for the future. Losing only three lettermen from the squad by graduation, Coach Bailey has a slightly more rosy future especially with such promising underclassmen as Jordan and Simon, both Frosh who have seen plenty of action this year. Abrahams, a fine guard and ball-handler; Johnson, a speedy center; Ludwig, Noyes, Koehlinger, DeHaan, plus aforementioned Jordan and Simon, and a number of promising sophomores will undoubtedly give El Tee a fighting Pony cage team which should be able to ring up an impressive record.

The La Grange wrestlers completed their third year of competition with a fine record. Tom Finch, 235 pounds of muscle, proved himself to be one of the best heavyweights in the state by taking a third in the state meet down at Champaign. He was undefeated throughout the regular season, and pinned men in 18, 45, and 55 seconds. Bud Elliott and Tom took firsts in the Champaign Invitational Tournaments, and Tom took a second in the District Meet. Other outstanding men on the squad were Art Thomas, who took third in both the District and Champaign Invitational Meets, and Hochwalt, who copped a third in the Champaign Tournament.

The fighters and their weights are as follows:

George Hochwalt	105
Ben Mottelson	115

"Rock" Myers coached the mat men and turned in a splendid job. "Rock" came to us this year from Champaign, where he had previously coached football. He set up a strict training routine for the boys to go through and this kept them in good condition throughout the season. During the season we matched brawn with such schools as Geneva, Proviso, Blue Island, Morton, Champaign, Urbana, Danville, Elgin, and also a member of our own conference, Riverside. The majority of the team was made up of Sophomores and Juniors, the only Seniors being Tom Finch and Jim Warren. We have been improving year by year, and next year we should be one of the best teams in the state.

Simek Off on His Heavenly Ascent

With the nucleus of his last year's track team back, Coach Bennett sees great things ahead for his track team this season. Despite the fact that the team lost many of its star runners, the coach feels that his group of boys is stronger than ever, and has a very good chance for the conference crown.

Our team this year will have to be a more closely knit organization than ever before, because in each event there are several boys who can do the job equally well. The two mile relay team should stand high in the conference meets. The event requires four crack half-milers, of which we have many. This relay team, although it did not place, showed itself very favorably in the Oak Park relays, a competition of over thirty schools. It took first at the Proviso relays. Another outstanding team is our sprint relay team that did well at both the Oak Park and Proviso meets. Because of a good supply of runners this season, our team will depend on its relay teams to garner a good many points. This type of running develops team work and necessitates precision and co-ordination.

Our first meet of the season was a practice meet at Proviso field house. This meet was very successful for the newly formed La Grange team, who won 53-39 over Proviso. Frank Brown turned in a beautiful 21'11" broad jump for first place, and then turned around and took a first in the high jump with a jump of 5'6". Simek took the pole vault with a leap of 10'6", which was an excellent jump considering the condition of the runway We monopolized the hurdles with Wallner taking the lows and Nordin taking the highs. Rich Breuss turned in his usual dependable mile run first place with a time of 4:56, square corners included. Our two-mile relay team took an easy first. In the medley relay, Dick Nelson, our third man, momentarily forgot that one and one make two and ran an extra lap. Our 1600-yd. relay team won and our 4-lap relay team was beaten. This meet can be considered very significant as to the outcome of the season. Many new runners are being developed and coach says we have a great bunch of stars.

Johnson, Breuss, Leahy—They're Off!

Several of this year's star runners came out of last fall's cross country team, which indicates that practice and experience are prime factors in developing a track man.

When you go to a track meet this season, this is just about the line-up you will see on the program: High jump, Frank Brown, Bill Wilson, Warren Nordin; Broad jump: Frank Brown, Dick Brown, Chan Sammons; Pole vault: Roy Simek; Mile run: Dick Breuss, Bill Laehy, Dave Kelly; High hurdles: Warren Nordin; Low hurdles: Chuck Wallner; Quarter-mile: Bill Richardson, Rutchard Johnson, Elmer Mueller; Half-mile: Fred Green, Ray Oendrick, Hank Gilbert, Bill MacDonald, John Stocker, Dave Kelly; Sprint events: Frank Brown, Chan Sammons, Bill Wilson, Don Novotney. Added to this constellation of track stars will be a group of new track men that the coach is developing this season. Our track team is indeed promising and, with any luck at all, we should put that Conference Championship in our pockets and walk away with it.

As the team is just limbering up, the outlook is rather bright. Coach Sedgewick has again taken over the local baseball talent and promises a good season. With Jack Mansfield doing most of the hurling and Hoppe and Mason doing their usual good jobs, aided by a good squad of new material, we're looking forward to a great season.

GOLF

'Tis spring. One of the surest signs of this is the conference champions' golf team blossoming out to get into shape to defend their title. The prospects look good, with great material to work from. Owen, Fisher, Abrahams, McNabb, Lyon and some very promising underclassmen will guarantee a real showing against any team in the state. Golf and La Grange are synonymous as proven by their continual swiping of the conference title.

We can only make a prediction as to the outcome of the season. But, with this material on hand, the state title will probably return to La Grange after a short leave of absence. For the seventh consecutive year they will be defending their title as the Conference Golf Champs.

TENNIS

Mr. Bailey again takes over the job as tennis coach. He has had this assignment before, so the task will not be altogether a new one. Because this book goes to press long before any results can be given, the best we can do is to prophesy. Although Coach Bailey's team has been stripped of such material as Seymour and Ackerberg by graduation, he still has such notables as Fricke, Till, and Cristie to fill the depleted ranks left by the retiring seniors. Although short of a great deal of experienced material, the hoard of younger players indicates bright possibilities for the team. We can count on great things from this team as all of Mr. Bailey's teams have been top notch.

Commando Courses

Part of this build-up program is the obstacle course which is composed of the different feats of strength illustrated here. These are the fellows who completed the entire course first and were awarded medals.

Soon after the Japs pulled a sneak attack on Hawaii, the draft age for Americans was lowered from 21 to 20 and then to 18. This was getting down to where it concerned every high school senior, because most of the boys would be subject to the draft as soon as they graduated.

Foreseeing this, the school administration drew up a plan of increased physical education for high school students, whereby instead of the usual peacetime 1 hour per week, these boys were to receive 15 hours every six weeks. Included in this new curriculum of physical education is more and tougher calisthenics, hikes, the obstacle course, tugs-of-war and just about every other sport conceivable.

The reason behind all this activity is the necessity of acquiring a sufficient amount of physical fitness prior to the student's entrance into the armed forces. Because of the stiff physical standards set up by the Army and Navy, it is deemed advisable for high school students to get as much pre-induction physical toughening as possible.

In compliance with this, there has been set up a Saturday morning fitness class open to all Junior College and High School upperclassmen. This group, jokingly dubbed "Annie's Commandos," has gained membership steadily and now boasts of a large group of men and boys interested in long hikes and general physical toughening. Bright and early of a dewy Saturday morning finds them leaving the campus for a long, strenuous hike to some distant point and return.

All this poorly-written babble about "Annie's Commandos" and "accelerated gym program" may seem trivial to the layman, but these boys and men have a dogged determination to really get in "trim."

"Eatin' Before the Beatin' "—
"L" Club Initiation

"L" Club is composed of the men from El Tee who have, in some sport or another, earned a major "L." With such able officers as Frank Hoppe, Phil Spina, and Tom Finch acting as president, vice-president, and secretary-treasurer, respectively, the organization really did some great work this year.

Each year the "L" Club does its good turn toward the grade schools by sponsoring their basketball tournament. At this tournament several of the members act as referees.

A great annual event up here is the "L" Club Faculty Basketball game where our able faculty men and members of the "L" Club serve as the teams. Up until now, the "L" Club has never been known to win, but this year's gang broke that precedent and defeated the pedagogues 43-31.

"L" Club is famous also for its initiation of new members. Ask any member!

Athletically Inclined

For many years the Girls' Athletic Association has proven to be popular with the girls of El Tee. With the great variety of afternoon sports it sponsors, including basketball, dancing, horseback riding, bowling, volley ball, hockey, tumbling, golf, tennis and baseball, how could it help but appeal to a girl with any athletic inclinations? Besides these activities, it has interesting meetings which include movies, scavenger hunts, and swimming and skating parties.

To join G. A. A., a girl must earn a certain number of points by participation in after school sports. These points and others earned during the year apply to awards presented in the spring.

Miss Ebert sponsors the group. Its officers are Stella Jackson, president; Jo Ann Reed, vice-president; Lois Kemman, secretary; Mitzi Schad, treasurer.

The El Tee girls' sports calendar offers year-round opportunity for our fair "athlettes." Let's follow the trail of activity through the school year. First, here's a peek at tumbling.

TUMBLING

"You're as graceful as a—well, I won't say it." This was at the beginning of the after school tumbling sessions. Led by Lois Bellman, our fifteen tumblers learned to do somersaults, flips, and pyramids as easily as experts.

RIDING

"Get a horse!" In these days of gas and tire rationing, El Tee's aspiring riders are glad they did "get a horse." Out to Stalford's every Friday afternoon trekked Dorothy Speed, student riding head, and her followers to learn the tricks of the trade. Regular equestriennes were Marilyn Winkoff, Sharon Hieronymous, Carolyn Bomke, Joan Pfaender, Marge Pouder and Nancy Stein.

HOCKEY

Due to the herculean efforts of sport-head Ruth Quinlan, 30 girls signed up for hockey. Only eleven of the more hardy souls completed the season, as the game proved a bit

"Hit it again, harder, harder"—And these girls really do. Under the leadership of sport head Lettie Smith, 72 girls participated in volleyball after school. Winner of the tournament was the "Queenies," captained by Dot Gregory. Among the freshmen, Helen Loomis, Lois Otto, and Doris Pepper kept the ball going in royal style. For the most "hefty" socks and great enthusiasm, Theresa Wotke certainly rates an award.

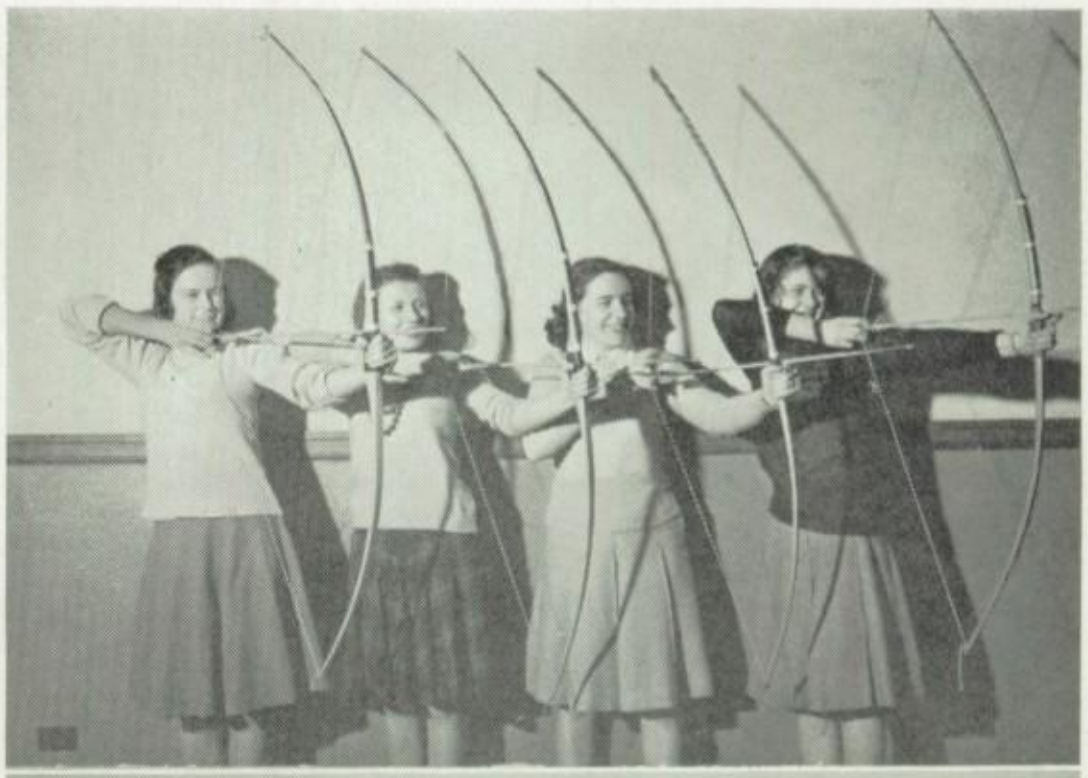
rugged for the other timid lassies. Doris Pepper, outstanding frosh player, really showed up some of the 'big seniors" when it came to socking that puck.

ARCHERY

Robin Hood had nothing on them, "them" being the twenty-three girls who participated in archery this fall. Elaine Malmquist, the student head, is El Tee's outstanding archer in the Junior shots with a score of 476. Helen Schmidt and Donna King were second and third respectively in the tournament. Our fair maidens competed with Glenbard in a meet here. Incidentally, El Tee is in a League with Hinsdale, Glenbard, Oak Park, Proviso, and Morton.



BASKETBALL

The highlight of the girls' basketball season was the double round robin tournament in which 60 girls participated. The turnout for games this year showed a decided improvement over last year's, thanks to the capable leadership of Lois Kemmon and her assistant, Virginia Smart. The upper class teams, the "Queenies," led by Joey Reed, and the "Frights," co-captained by Ann Mottelson and Mitzi Schad, gained the lead in tournament competition. Stiff opposition was provided by Catherine Quinlan's "Dribbles," the outstanding underclass team.

DANCING

Future Zorinas, Pavlovas, Eleanor Powells and Rita Hayworths were to be found after school going through their routines under the direction of Mrs. Wolters and student head Dolly Power. Twenty of these tap and modern dancers performed with professional finesse in assemblies and request programs.

BASEBALL

Since baseball is a spring sport, not much information could be obtained regarding it. It is probable that Mary Detert, Lois Bellman, Joey Reed, Lois Kemmon, and company will again show their ability as feminine Joe Di Maggios.

On March 30 the G. A. A., "L" Club, and girls' gym classes combined to give to the school a cracker-jack assembly. With a portrayal of the old American gym classes and comparing these ancient gymnastics with modern physical fitness programs, the girls and boys demonstrated an old fashioned basketball game. This was good for plenty of laughs, as a peach basket was used and a ladder to remove the ball from the basket after a basket was made. Tennis, croquet, bicycling, tumbling, calisthenics, and precision dancing rounded out the program. The audience was amazed at the ability of these young girls as they performed their difficult tumbling routines. The finale was very impressive as it signified all the American sports encircling Uncle Sam.

BOWLING

Every Thursday afternoon, at the Ball 'n' Pin Bowling Alleys, remarks such as these could be heard: "Lookee, I got a strike." "Nuts, another gutter ball," as El Tee's 50 bowlers went to town. All the scores and averages of the eight teams were handled by Helen Schmidt, sport head. The top team was Boogie-Woogie 11, composed of Alice Peterson, Marion Burkovich, Rose Saban, Joey Reed, and Eleanor MacWithey, with Irene Maylsiak and Mary Detert as alternates.

TENNIS

The girls hitting that little white ball so viciously are none other than our El Tee tennis players. Headed by Carolyn Bluhm, sport head, the annual tournament was held in the fall. Winner for the third consecutive year was Stella Jackson, but it wasn't a push-over; not with competition furnished by Barb Larson, Carolyn Bluhm, and Helen Schmidt.
